CATALOGUE

BRITISH PAINTING AND SCULPTURE, CANADIAN PAINTING AND SCULPTURE, BRITISH AND CANADIAN WATER COLOURS, BRITISH AND CANADIAN GRAPHIC AND APPLIED ART, INTERNATICNAL PHOTOGRAPHY.

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION
TORONTO
AUGUST 23rd TO SEPTEMBER 7th
1935

The President and Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition desire to express their very sincere appreciation of the kind co-operation extended by Captain J. W. Flanagan, in making possible to display a portion of his magnificent collection of Inca and Aztec Archaeological Art. Captain Flanagan's is perhaps the most comprehensive collection in private ownership. A detailed description of the various articles will be found on page 68.

PICTURES which have been purchased from year to year from the Canadian National Exhibition are part of the Exhibition now hanging at the Art Gallery of Toronto, Dundas St. West, between Beverley and McCaul Sts.

Most of the Paintings, Drawings, Etchings, and Applied Art are for sale, and visitors desiring information should ask the Curator at the Offices in the Fine Arts Buildings or at the desk in the Rotunda of the Graphic Art Building.

THE J. W. FLANAGAN COLLECTION OF AZTEC AND MAYAN GOLD RELICS.

The Aztec and Mayan gold relics as displayed herewith are known by many different names. They are frequently referred to by the name of the locality in which they are found. The major portion of the J. W. Flanagan collection, of which the present display forms a representative part, has been personally acquired by their owner, Captain J. W. Flanagan, in the Republics of Peru, Ecuador and Colombia during more than thirty years association in South America, and only after a considerable outlay of time, research and money. The great value of these gold pieces may be realized when it is stated that the two larger pieces contain approximately seven hundred dollars each in virgin gold.

History relates that upon the death of the chieftains and outstanding members of the tribes, there would be buried with them replicas of some household effects, animals and effigies of his wife (or wives), idols and himself. The importance of each individual would regulate the quality of relics placed in his grave, as also the value and ornateness of same. It will be noted that some pieces are of solid virgin gold, while others are hollow.

The rarity and great historic value of these Aztec and Mayan pieces is such that many expeditions and private enterprises have unearthed the known Indian burial grounds in search of them. In time governmental regulations were issued prohibiting this practice due to profanation or disturbing the dead. In a further endeavour to eliminate the above, the governments have also prohibited the exportation of such pieces as are now in known existence and a rigid examination of baggage is always conducted by the customs authorities on departing travellers. Contravention of these regulations is always made a very severe penal offence.

The priceless rarity of these gold pieces has lead to extensive falsification. However, the truly genuine piece can always be distinguished due to its being of the purest gold known. In the Aztec and Mayan period, the process of alloying gold with baser metals was unknown. Although in some instances the authentic pieces are made of a lower grade gold, due to the possible lack of ability in refining, an authentic piece can always be distinguished from the counterfeit by the unmistakeable signs of its having been buried with the dead for hundreds of years and the individuality of workmanship, which it is practically impossible to duplicate. All pieces in the J. W. Flanagan collection are of proven authenticity.

Due to its scope, excellence of condition and beauty, the J. W. Flanagan collection is classified as among the finest in private ownership. The bullion value alone amounts to several thousands of dollars, while its value as a collection and from a historical point of view is incalculable. There are included in this display sceptres, a crown or head-dress, an idol's mask, nose rings, ear rings, finger rings, idols, head bands, etc. Among the most imposing pieces are the pure gold water cup, the crown or head-dress and the idol's mask. These latter two articles were secured in a ruined temple in Peru.

BRITISH APPLIED ART

The British Applied Art Section this year is mainly composed of two special exhibits.

One of these is a selection from the Exhibition of British Art in Industry, held at the Royal Academy of Arts in London in January of this year.

All the works shown in this exhibition were manufactured in the United Kingdom, and were designed by artists, or by a combination of artists and technicians, who are British and resident in the United Kingdom. It was stipulated that the designs themselves must be the original work of the artists exhibiting, who were debarred from sending in copies of well-known models, whether derived from the past or from the present production of British or other countries.

These exhibits are marked R.A. in the Catalogue.

The other section is of pottery and stone ware loaned by the Contemporary Art Society Arts and Crafts Fund. (These exhibits are marked C.A.S. in the Catalogue). This Society purchases the work of young artists in the applied arts, with a view to the ultimate gift of such works to public galleries in the United Kingdom.

FOREWORD

The Toronto Salon—one of the important International Photographic exhibitions—represents the best work, after careful selection by jury, of the foremost photographic-artists from over twenty countries. Year after year, photography as a means of artistic expression is finding increased recognition. It is a recognized fact that during the past quarter of a century, none of the other graphic arts has made such rapid and far reaching progress as the photographic media. Constant research and experimentation has resulted in important improvement in both negative and printing materials, and results not possible even a few years ago are accepted as ordinary today.

To those workers — Pictorial and Scientific — who have so generously responded to the invitation sent, the Toronto Camera Club again extends its sincere thanks, and asks for their continued support for future Toronto Salons of Photography.
